THE ORIGINAL REDWOOD CIDER VINEGAR

The use of Apple Cider Vinegar takes a holistic approach to animal well-being. For over 50 years Redwood Animal Health has produced New Zealand's finest vinegar for the agricultural market.

Redwood Cider Vinegar (RCV) is rich in nutrients and trace elements and a regular dose in the diet promotes general health and well-being. RCV modifies the intestinal environment to a pH suitable for beneficial bacteria.

Adult Stock

Our farmer clients report that RCV is an excellent nutritional supplement to promote general animal health, particularly when attempting to manage somatic cell count.

Young Stock

The addition of Redwood Cider Vinegar Plus (RCV Plus) to CMR solutions will assist curd formation in the abomasum due to the curding properties of vinegar.

RAH Research

We are undertaking a period of research and would like to hear from you. Do you keep or work with animals and believe that RCV could help maintain good health but would like to know more? Are you rearing calves and want to reduce nutritional scours? Do you run a club, group or association that may benefit from our knowledge?

Do you have difficulty sourcing RCV?

At Redwood Animal Health we would like your feedback and more; please feel free to call us.
